

Boston City Council Staff Training

Presented by

The Center for Public Management and
The John Joseph Moakley Archive & Institute at
*Suffolk University

March 6, 2006

Agenda

- 10:00 a.m. Registration and Coffee
- 10:10 a.m. Welcome and Introductions
Sandy Matava, Center for Public Management Director
William J. O'Neill Jr., Suffolk Business School Dean
John Nucci, VP for Government and Community Relations, Suffolk University
The Importance of Good Public Service
Michael Flaherty, Boston City Council President
- 10:30 a.m. Ethics: The Special Obligations of Public Servants
Maria Mossaides, Adjunct Professor, Suffolk University and Renewable Energy Trust, Mass Technology Collaborative
Mark Sweeney, First Assistant Corporation Counsel, City of Boston
Peter Sturges, Executive Director, Mass Ethics Commission
- 12:15 p.m. Working Lunch: Challenges to a Respectful Work
Environment
Michael Lavin, Associate Professor, Suffolk University
- 1:30 p.m. Maintaining a Respectful Work Environment
Linda Melconian, Visiting Assistant Professor, Suffolk University
Ann Hess, Staff Director, Boston City Council
William Kessler, Director of Employment and Recruitment, City of Boston
John Lozada, Chief of Enforcement/Acting General Counsel, MCAD
- 3:30 p.m. The Public Service Legacy of Congressman Joe Moakley
Beth A. Bower, John Joseph Moakley Archive & Institute Director
Sean Ryan
- 3:45 p.m. End